REMEMBER TO RSVP ACCORDINGLY!

NEW ANNOUNCEMENTS (listed alpha)

AMWA will be having a meeting in room 1909 HSCN on Thursday, September 7 at noon. At the meeting we will be making breast cancer ribbons that we will later be selling in October with all proceeds being donated to Bonnie's Bus. Students who attend the meeting and help with the ribbon making will be able to receive 1 hour of community service.

CHARLESTON CAMPUS – MANNA MEAL. Manna Meal is taking place next Saturday, September 2nd from 11:30 until 1:00 PM. It's a great way to get service hours while getting experience doing medical screenings in the community. Also, we now have an option to work in the Manna Meal kitchen from 9am-11am if you are interested in providing additional help or getting more service hours. Please email cwilliams@mix.wvu.edu if you are interested in kitchen prep by Monday, August 28th so I can tell the Manna Meal coordinator!

MEDICAL SPANISH ASSOCIATION will be hosting their first meeting Sept 7 at noon. Room: HSS-H G252F. For food (Cuban food will be served) RSVP at medicalspanishassociation@gmail.com. Open to all (beginners to advanced and all health professional programs)

OF THE MINDFUL PHYSICIAN will be having representatives from the WVU Collegiate Recovery Program - a resource to help formerly addicted students maintain their commitment to sobriety - come to speak about their experiences with substance abuse and addiction, the face of substance abuse on campuses across the country and its impact on education. Furthermore, they will present the modalities available for recovery by treatment teams and the re-introduction of recovered patients into the education system. We will also be having physicians who deal with substance abuse recovery coming to give their input. Please join us on Sept 13 at 5pm in G119A for what will be an interesting learning experience! LGBTQ ADVOCACY & INCLUSION WEEK INVITATION: October 23rd - 27th - daily noon lectures, multiple Grand Rounds Speakers, and evening events during the week. We have confirmed nationally prominent speakers including the Educational Director from Fenway Health in Boston. The week is being organized by volunteers in the Departments of Internal Medicine, Pediatrics, and Plastic Surgery, the WVU SOM SHAPE group, and the WVU LGBTQ+ Center.

OF THE MINDFUL PHYSICIAN. In acknowledgement of the need to reflect on our work and goals during our profession, OMP will be hosting a reflective writing exercise with Renee Nicholson, who is leading a reflective writing project in the Cancer Center to see whether storytelling improves patients' quality of life. We will be discussing the impact of storytelling for patients (a patient may be present), the benefit to us as students, and how we may get started et al. Please join us for this in HSCN G119B on September 6 at noon. Sign up below https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSedY3jJa4yQWFYz9xq-5IzcSnWEgRGRmiy-px-ZccTpGoAZeg/viewform?usp=sf_link2.

OF THE MINDFUL PHYSICIAN and EMERGENCY MEDICINE INTEREST GROUP will be having Dr. Paulson, an Emergency Medicine physician, and Danielle Davidov, a PhD student, give a presentation on domestic violence and their interactions - in practice and through research - with victims of domestic violence. We will also have martial arts instructors from Morgantown who use martial arts to teach victims of abuse self-defense and empowerment. Most importantly, we will be having survivors of domestic violence come to share their stories. Please join us on Sept 11 at 5pm in G119A to learn, among others, the forms of domestic violence, who it affects, WHY it happens, impact on victims, victim interaction with healthcare and recourse for both victim and perpetrators.
